

Susceptible Populations Workshop - Agenda

Day 1 - Opening Session:

9:00 – 9:15 Welcome and Introduction – [Steven Gendel, FDA]

Explain the workshop goals, organization and expectations.

9:15 – 9:45 What do we mean by “susceptible”? - [Rebecca Parkin, George Washington Univ.]

Discuss the concept of susceptibility and the various ways that the term is used.

9:45 – 10:15 Susceptibility from a medical point of view [Marguerite Neill, Brown]

10:15 – 10:30 Break

10:30 – 11:00 Population Health Statistics – [Amy Bernstein, National Center for Health Statistics]

What data and information resources are with health statistics for the general population and for specific sub-populations?

11:00 - 11:30 Consumer Exposure - [Jacqueline Moya, EPA] What data resources are available to describe consumption patterns for specific foods and for specific consumers?

11:30 – 11:45 - Summary of the Food Forum Workshop on Aging Populations- [Kerry Dearfield, USDA]

11:45 – 12:00 Charge to the Breakout Groups – [Steven Gendel, FDA]

Lunch

1:00- 5:00 Breakout Groups: Parallel Sessions for chemical hazards and microbial hazards

1:00 – 1:30 Setting the stage: Issues in Defining Susceptible Populations for this type of hazard

Chemicals – [Intro: Kathleen Raffaele, EPA] [Facilitator: Jane Van Doren, FDA]

Microbes – [Intro: Barbara Mahon, CDC] [Facilitator – Stephen Schaub, EPA]

1:30 – 5:00 – Group discussion based on questions in the charge document

Day 2

8:00 – 10:00 – Group Discussion Continued

10:00 – 12:00 Final Session – Summaries from each breakout group and discussion of how similar and different needs going forward for each hazard type.

12:00 - Thanks and Adjourn - [Andrew Maccabe, CDC]